MACLEAN'S EDITORIAL

Editorial: The House of Commons (July) and the House of Lords (October)

A Golden Anniversary

A GREAT many readers of Maclean's have less subscribers (it is a long time since they read Maclean's) and are reading them—

...as subscribers of the Daily.

There are few more that you will read of in this issue. It is a long time since they read Maclean's (it is a long time since they read Maclean's) and are reading them—

to Readers of MACLEAN'S and their Friends

This is a reduced illustration of the "Big Book of Needlecraft." Actual size is 8 1/2" deep by 5 1/4" wide, and it weighs nearly two and a half pounds.

A Wonderbook for Canadian Women!

MACLEAN'S brings to its readers and their friends this exceptional opportunity of securing a complete, thoroughly practical Book of Needlecraft, covering every phase of needlework, and teeming with thousands of facts, hints and diagrams at the incredibly low price of $1.25. The book that Canadian needlecraft enthusiasts have been waiting for—written by experts in clear, understandable style and profusely illustrated with photographs and designs. Contains 300,000 words, nearly 600 pages, is bound in green art canvas with figured end-papers and dust-proof top edges, colored to match the binding. An invaluable book—the friend and helpmate of every woman who appreciates needlework in any form.

MISS HELEN CAMPBELL, DIRECTOR OF CHATELAIN INSTITUTE SAYS:
"A useful reference book for any woman in the business of housekeeping—full of ideas for delightful and profitable handicrafts."
